WHEN WE MIGHT SHARE YOUR DATA WITH THIRD PARTIES

We do not, and will not, sell any of your personal data to any third party – including your name, address, email address or payment card information. We want to earn and maintain your trust, and we believe this is essential in order to do that.

As an essential part of being able to provide our services to you, we do share your data with the following categories of third parties:

- Other companies within the EMWA group, as different companies within our group are responsible for different membership benefits;
- Service providers that help us to get any purchases which you make through our website to you, such as delivery companies, payment service providers;
- Service providers that provide reservation systems for event venues;
- Service providers that help us to run our business such as marketing agencies, website hosting providers, website developers, email and newsletter distributors;
- Professional advisers including lawyers, bankers, auditors and insurers who provide advice to us when we require it;
- Law enforcement agencies in connection with any investigation to help prevent unlawful activity; and

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions. If you would like any more information about the third parties, which we work with to provide our services to you, please contact us on the contact details provided later in this Privacy Notice.

HOW WE ASK FOR CONSENT

In those cases where we need your consent to hold and process your personal data, we will ask you to check a box on any form requiring consent (except when subscribing to our newsletter via our website, when we will ask you to click on subscribe). By checking these boxes, you are confirming that you have been informed as to why we are collecting the information, how this information will be used, for how long the information will be kept, who else will have access to this information and what are your rights as a data subject (all of which is set out in this Privacy Notice).

HOW WE KEEP YOUR PERSONAL DATA SECURE

To protect your information, we have policies and procedures in place to make sure that only authorised personnel can access the information, that information is handled and stored in a secure and sensible manner, and all systems that can access the information have the necessary security measures in place.

All employees, contractors and sub-contractors receive the necessary training and resources to ensure they understand their responsibilities in relation to all of our policies and procedures.

In addition to these operational measures we also use a range of technologies and security systems to reinforce the policies and procedures, including ensuring that:

- access to personal data is strictly restricted to those employees who need to access this information as part of their role;
- we store your personal data on secure servers and unauthorised external access to personal data is prevented through the use of a firewall;
- information used for reporting and/or customer profiling purposes is anonymised (so that it does not identify you);
- we store your personal data on secure servers;

Why we need your data – Collection / Creation

We need to know your basic personal data in order to provide you with on-going member services, provide relevant information and analysis services we offer members.

We will only collect any personal data from you that we need in order to provide and oversee this service to you.

What we do with your data – Storage / Usage / Sharing / Transfer

All the personal data we process is processed by our data processor staff based in the UK. However, for the purposes of Accounting, IT hosting and maintenance this information could be located on servers within and outside the European Economic Area (EEA).

No third parties will have access to your personal data unless the law allows them to do so or we have instructed third party suppliers to carry out member services on your behalf.

How long we keep your data – Process

We are required under UK tax law to keep your basic personal data (name, address, contact details) for a minimum of 6 years after which time it will be destroyed. Your information we use for marketing purposes will be kept with us until you notify us that you no longer wish to receive this information. The same applies for your educational records such as certificates, which we will store for you until you notify us that we should delete these records. Business critical information will always need to be communicated to you, as long as you remain a member.

TRANSFERS OF YOUR DATA OUTSIDE THE EEA

All information you provide via our website is stored on our secure servers within the European Economic Area (“EEA”). If any data that we collect from you is transferred to, or stored at, a destination outside the EEA at any time, we will update this Privacy Notice accordingly.

What are your rights - Disposal

If at any point you believe the information we process on you is incorrect you can request to see this information and have it corrected or deleted. We will delete information within 21 working days of such notice.

If you wish to raise a complaint on how we have handled your personal data, you can contact us to have the matter investigated.

If you are not satisfied with our response or believe we are processing your personal data not in accordance with the law you can complain in the first instance to honsec@emwa.org, if not satisfied you may refer the matter to the Information Commissioner's Office <https://ico.org.uk/>

YOUR RIGHTS

The right to access information we hold about you

At any point you can contact us to request the information we hold about you as well as why we have that information, who has access to the information and where we got the information. Once we have received your request we will respond within 30 days.

The right to correct and update the information we hold about you

If the information we hold about you is out of date, incomplete or incorrect, you can inform us and we will ensure that it is updated or you can log into the members area and update your details and preferences.

The right to have your information erased

If you feel that we should no longer be using your information or that we are illegally using your information, you can request that we erase the information we hold. When we receive your request, we will confirm whether the information has been deleted or tell you the reason why it cannot be deleted.

The right to object to processing of your information

You have the right to request that we stop processing your information. Upon receiving the request, we will contact you to tell you if we are able to comply or if we have legitimate grounds to continue. If data is no longer processed, we may continue to hold your information to comply with your other rights.

The right to ask us to stop contacting you with direct marketing

You have the right to request that we stop contacting you with direct marketing that is outside what is considered reasonable for a membership body to offer member benefits and to ensure good governance of the membership body.

The right to data portability

You have the right to request that we transfer your information to another controller. Once we have received your request, we will comply where it is feasible to do so. For your security, we may need to verify your identity before we process your instructions above.
